AMUSEMENTS

NEILAN FEATURE AT THE BUTLER TODAY

With General Custer's last stand against the Sioux in the battle of the Little Big Horn as the dramatic and spectacular climax. "Bob Hampton of Placer," said to be the greatest production yet made by Marshall Neilan, will be the headline at the Butler today. The undying fame which General Custer won in his last stand against the Sioux under Sitting Bull is given a new luster in this screen version, which reproduces the battle of the Little Big Horn. An excellent cast has been selected, including the smiling and bearded countenance of Master Wesley Barry shining throughout this exceptional attraction. Marshall Neilan took his entire company to Montana and Arizona where the production was photographed on the actual scenes of General Custer's gallant fight against the Indians, over 2000 Indians and soldiers being used. It is a story of love, intrigue and adventure with one of the most thrilling and picturesque pages of American frontier history as a background. It is Marshall Neilan's greatest picture, and he has never made anything but good ones. The Charlie Chaplin picture will be repeated again today for the last time.

PLANES AND SHIPS OCCUPY ATTENTION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—The American proposal for limitation of auxiliary naval craft to the maximum of 10,000 tons displacement each was understood to have been virtually agreed upon at the morning session of the naval committee.

All of the powers' delegations accepted the American proposal except the French, who, while holding formal approval in abeyance, said such approval was expected. Delegations of all the powers, however, are understood to have assented to an additional provision of the American proposal that guns of auxiliary craft be limited to eight inches.

When the subject of limitation of naval airplane carriers is reached in the conference probably today or tomorrow, it is stated the British will propose the application of a definite ratio as in the case of capital ships. The British are said to be ready to propose an allowance of five, five, three, two, two, which, translated, means Great Britain and America would each have a ratio of five, Japan a ratio of three.

DESIRES TO CORRECT THE IMPRESSION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—Albert Sarraut, head of the French arms conference delegation, in a meeting of the naval committee today, declared in substance that France was beginning to be regarded with suspicion by the other powers represented in the Washington meeting, and that this could not go on.
